Introducing our latest additions to the collection

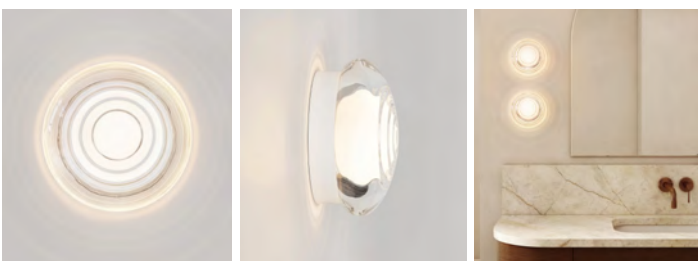

We are delighted to share a selection of new designs, including additions to existing collections alongside entirely new products joining the range. Together, they expand the possibilities for specification and bring greater flexibility to your projects.

Monet 250

Monet is a unique new addition to our popular picture light collection, designed to deliver precise illumination across artwork. Its compact form and wall-washing lens create a broad, uniform wash of light across the surface, while a high CRI of 98 helps reveal colour with exceptional accuracy.

Drop

Drop brings depth and quiet character to the bathroom through its distinctive pressed glass shade. This surface-mounted LED wall light delivers focused task lighting, with adjustable colour temperature offering greater control over the atmosphere of the space. Supplied with interchangeable black and white collars as standard, Drop can be tailored to complement a variety of schemes.

Toro Ceiling + Pendant

The Toro collection expands beyond the existing wall light with new ceiling and pendant designs, bringing its distinctive Art Deco character to a wider range of applications. The ceiling light keeps fixings discreet, allowing the glass shade to take focus, while the height-adjustable pendant introduces a more sculptural presence above dining tables, through stairwells and within communal spaces.

Nomad Wall, Lantern + Bollard

The Nomad collection expands with new bollard, lantern and wall designs, combining a refined exterior aesthetic with more responsible illumination. Carefully controlled light minimises spill and helps reduce sky glow, creating considered points of light that sit comfortably within their surroundings.
